

Activities of The Geode Foundation, Inc

Who We Are: Our foundation is dedicated to fostering economic opportunity and community development through the promotion of decentralized applications (dApps), decentralized autonomous organizations (DAOs), and other on-chain activities. By increasing innovation, awareness, and access to these transformative technologies, we aim to create more active, connected, and economically empowered communities.

What We Do: We accomplish our mission through a combination of grants, contracts, and strategic partnerships designed to support:

1. Awareness Initiatives:

- Hosting events, workshops, and online campaigns to educate individuals and organizations about the benefits of decentralized technology.
- Producing accessible content to demystify blockchain-based applications for the general public.

2. Community Outreach & Adoption:

- Funding and supporting projects that onboard new users into decentralized systems, ensuring they can participate in a free and open digital economy.
- Providing grants to individuals and organizations that create solutions improving accessibility to blockchain-based applications.

3. Innovation & Research:

- Supporting independent research on decentralized technologies, financial inclusion, and innovative use cases that improve economic outcomes.
- Providing grants for projects that explore new ways of using decentralized applications for public good.

4. Economic Development & Inclusion:

- Partnering with social enterprises, grassroots organizations, and underprivileged communities to introduce decentralized financial tools that enhance economic participation.
- Encouraging financial literacy and self-sustaining economic models through on-chain technologies.

When We Will Operate: The foundation will begin operations in the current fiscal year, initially focusing on community engagement, educational programs, and grant-making. Over time, we plan to scale up activities based on funding availability and community needs.

Where We Work: Our efforts will primarily be focused on global initiatives, with an emphasis on communities that stand to benefit the most from decentralized applications. We will support both online and in-person initiatives to maximize reach and impact.

How We Achieve Our Mission: We will work through a combination of grant-making, awareness initiatives, community programs, and partnerships with other mission-aligned organizations.

Ultimate Impact: By leveraging blockchain technology's ability to provide open, transparent, and inclusive economic tools, our foundation will help bridge the gap between technological innovation and real-world impact, ensuring that communities everywhere can benefit from the new digital economy.
